File Reference : #BO330

Human Resource Name :

Henry Dorsett Case, Born January 1976

Known Cognomens :

Generally known by his surname. Usually carries several passports, driving licences, other ID, including bank and credit cards. So far, none of these have been reliably recorded.

Known Associates :

Several associations with other hackers are known, along with a freelance security operative XXXXX
XXXXXXXX.

Personal History :

Born in Atlanta in 1976, Case had a relatively quiet, privileged upbringing. An only child, he was given the advantages of a good education, and the freedom to experiment. Son of a systems designer, he had the time and patience to experiment with computer systems, enjoying the benefits of the rapid development and increase in computer power and capacity in the 1980s, and then the introduction of the internet in the 90s. Case is generally a loner, although he works well in a team, so long as the physical level of contact is kept to a minimum. His best work has been during more hardcore runs, linked with physical intrusion teams. Although wanted in several states for credit card fraud, illegal entry to several bank systems and insurance companies, Case has kept one step ahead of the game, and with a level of paranoia unparalleled in the industry, travels and lives under several aliases, and has been known to move on a 3-6 monthly basis to different residences.

Recent Information :

Currently thought to be in the Florida area, several bank intrusions showing the hallmarks of this man have been recorded. No hard evidence linking him to any crimes in the area has been left, so there are no warrants currently outstanding for his arrest. Generally, apart for minor financial gain, Case has not been known as a malicious hacker. Any larger operation involving the man has been linked to physical intrusions, and to corporate activities with ecological focii. Close contact between Case and a BlackEagle hacker has been recorded, and with a favourable evaluation of his skills and values. He has provided skills to BlackEagle in the past, and if he can be tempted into a more regular pattern of contact, his skills may be of more use to BlackEagle, and possibly utilised in the near future. Any records of contact must be passed to L&P as soon as possible.
